Reds Divided On Mideast Resolutions

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Communists, whom the Arabs had counted on to demand U.N. action against Israel, were split three ways today. The Romanian line calling for direct negotiations between the disputants roused Arab wrath.

Delegates at the U.N. General Assembly's emergency session on the Middle East were generally encouraged by the decision of President Johnson and Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin to continue their summit talks Sunday.

But Johnson cautioned: "One meeting does not make a peace."

The Soviet line at the U.N. session, which it requested, has been to call for condemnation of Israel and withdrawal of Israeli troops from captured territory in Egypt, Jordan and Syria.

The Cuban line, expressed Friday by Ambassador Ricardo Alarcon Quesada, was that the Arabs should fight if they must to oust the Israelis.

Romanian Premier Ion Gheorghe Maurer also said Israel should withdraw from the occupied territories. But he called for respect of the "independent and sovereign existence" of each Middle Eastern state and for a settlement through "negotiations and agreements."

In the 122-nation assembly Friday, five of the 10 speakers endorsed a proposed resolution embodying the Soviet line, which accuses Israel of aggression. The five were Afghanistan, Byelorussia, Guinea, Poland and Hungary.

Polish Premier Jozef Cyrankiewicz, supporting the Soviet proposal, said, "The aggressor must be made to give up the gains of his aggression." But he noted that "thanks to the intervention of the Security Council, it became possible to bring about a cease-fire."

Cuba's Alarcon said, however, the cease-fire agreement enabling Israel to hold Arab territory was "an immoral body blow to the Arab people."

If the Israelis do not withdraw from the occupied territory, he declared, "the Arab people will be justified in resuming the war, aware that the restoration of their rights will depend on their determination to resist and fight."

The Israelis themselves have demanded that the Arab states recognize Israel's right to exist and negotiate a peace settlement with her free of foreign interference. The Arabs have refused.

Leaders Discuss Mideast, Vietnam

GLASSBORO, N. J. (AP) — American diplomats mixed optimism with caution today over prospects that two summit meetings at Glassboro will open the way toward solving major international issues. The fact that President Johnson and Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin met for five hours Friday, including three hours with no aides except interpreters — then agreed on another parley Sunday — was in itself regarded as a good omen.

Announcement of the follow-up session Sunday afternoon came as a surprise to the array of experts who figured the Friday meeting could only be a token one at best, considering how much difficulty the chiefs had all week over whether or where to get together.

As it turned out their first session at Hollybush, the brown-stone residence of the Glassboro State College president, began with a handshake and ended with Johnson and Kosygin smilingly facing newsmen and a cheering crowd.

Kosygin concurred with Johnson's statement that their talks ranged over such issues as the Middle East crisis and Vietnam and that "we agreed it is now very important to reach international agreement on a non-proliferation treaty."

Presidential press secretary George Christian said the two leaders developed an understanding on the central question in the Middle East dispute—that "Israel does, of course, exist as a nation"—although they disagreed on other points.

Christian said Johnson hopes for a consensus on the other Middle East issues. He also reported that Secretary of State Dean Rusk, assigned to meet next week with Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, is optimistic about chances for U.S.-Soviet concurrence on the draft of a proposed treaty to bar the spread of nuclear weapons.

The two private meetings by the chiefs plus the business lunch attended by their top advisers at the tree-shaded campus site Friday produced a sudden improvement in the tone of U.S.-Soviet relations.

Since Kosygin's arrival in New York a week ago for the U.S.-opposed U.N. General Assembly special session on the Middle East, the atmosphere had soared amid his public denunciation of American as well as Israeli policy and the arguments over a summit meeting.

But after the Glassboro parley, Johnson hailed "the spirit of Hollybush." He told a Democratic group in Los Angeles that this is the spirit of "reasoning together."

Johnson declared that he and Kosygin had agreed they both want "a world of peace for our grandchildren."

But the President added a note of caution that "deep and serious differences" remain. "One meeting does not make a peace," he said.

"No New Agreements" — "We reached no new agreements—that does not happen in a single conversation—but I think we understand each other better," he said.

Moscow radio carried only a brief comment for Russian listeners. It simply said that the two leaders met "in Glassboro, N.J., near New York" and that "the meeting was suggested by President Johnson."

Glassboro, a small town near Philadelphia, is about halfway between New York and Washington—which is how it came to be the compromise site in the dispute between Johnson and Kosygin over who should come to whom.

The Moscow version omitted Christian's statement that the second Glassboro conference Sunday had been suggested by Kosygin.

Radio Peking lost no time in accusing both powers of directly planning "a great conspiracy on a worldwide basis."

While Kosygin ostensibly went to the United States for the U.N. session, Red China declared, the Soviet premier's real purpose was to "confer secretly with Johnson on criminally selling the rights of the revolution of Vietnam people, Arabs, as well as Asian, African and Latin-American peoples to U.S. imperialists."

Saudi Arabia's ambassador to the United Nations, Jamil M. Baroudy, seemed little impressed with the Big Two summit, no matter what the outcome.

"If they agree or don't agree," the Arab diplomat said, "there will be no solution if it is not a solution that satisfies the Arab world."

Reaction Favorable — Elsewhere at the United Nations the reaction to the news from Glassboro was generally favorable.

Diplomats took the continuation of the talks as an encouraging sign. They speculated that at least one concrete result might be agreement by the two nuclear superpowers on the proposed pact to outlaw the spread of atomic arms.

Glassboro Kids Cheer Kosygin

GLASSBORO, N. J. (AP) — The kids of Glassboro are impartial. They cheered Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin Friday loud and clear. They whistled and yelled for President Johnson.

When the leaders of the world's two most powerful nations paused to chat and shake hands with a few in the crowd at the historic summit meeting, there were squeals of childish delight.

Little hands offered the Russian a box of strawberries. They held aloft banners bearing slogans such as, "All the way with LBJ."

A soldier leaving an army base was overheard saying to a comrade: "This has got to be love at first sight. I'm on an eight-hour pass."

Dodd To Seek Another Term As Vindication

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, censured by his colleagues for personal use of campaign funds, vows to serve out his current term and seek vindication from Connecticut voters by running for a third term.

"I will be here tomorrow," the white-haired Connecticut Democrat told the Senate after it passed judgment on him Friday. "I will be here every day, doing my work as best as I can."

Vote

Washington AP — Michigan's two senators, Democrat Philip Hart and Republican Robert Griffin, both voted to censure Sen. Thomas Dodd, D-Conn., and to eliminate the double billing charge from the the censure resolution Friday.

do it. Senators need not worry about me running away."

Dodd told newsmen he had not planned to run for a third term in 1970 and had promised his wife he would not. But now, he said, "Everything's changed. I've got to."

The Senate rendered its decision on the ninth day of debate, climaxing an agonizing period for the 69-year-old Dodd and his fellow senators.

He became the sixth senator in the nation's history to have his conduct censured or condemned by his peers.

'World Of Peace' Goal Of Leaders, Johnson Reports

LOS ANGELES (AP) — President Johnson says he reached no new agreements with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin but "he and I agreed that we wanted a world of peace for our grandchildren."

The President reported on his historic summit meeting in a speech to a $500-a-plate Democratic party fund-raising affair Friday night, just a few hours after he left Kosygin at Glassboro, N.J.

Outside the hotel where he spoke, lines of club-holding police clashed with thousands of anti-Vietnam war demonstrators.

Thirty were arrested and several were injured as officers cleared the crowd from the street.

Johnson, who came in through a rear basement entrance, did not see any of the estimated 10,000 demonstrators who marched from a nearby park.

Mrs. Kennedy To Visit Dublin

WATERFORD, Ireland (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy will travel to Dublin next week to be the house guest of President Eamon de Valera, a government official said Friday.

He said Mrs. Kennedy will stay at the president's official residence for a day or two. The exact days have not been decided.

Mrs. Kennedy and her two children have been vacationing at Woodstown Estate on the coast of southern Ireland.

Tax Negotiators Near Agreement

LANSING (AP) — A 2 1/2 per cent state income tax for Michigan residents appeared more likely today than it has seemed so far this year.

Bi-partisan negotiators from the House meeting with Gov. George Romney in a day-long session Friday, reached tentative agreement on all but two points of a revenue-increasing tax package.

But if the four Republican and four Democratic negotiators reach full agreement when they meet with Romney again Monday, they will still face the job of selling it to their rank-and-file members and attracting the needed 56 votes.

Romney cancelled an appearance at the National Young Republicans convention at Omaha, Neb., to sit in on Friday's session.

Tax Bill Itemized — Democrats—who already appeared to have won most of what they wanted in the negotiations—were asking to increase the rate of the proposed corporate income tax from the 5 1/2 per cent Republicans advocated to 6 per cent and to include in the fiscal package a $3-per-person annual sales tax refund.

Otherwise, the package which emerged from Friday's session looked like this:

—Income taxes of 2 1/2 per cent on individuals and 7 per cent on financial institutions, with a $1,000 personal exemption on the personal tax.

—An increase of three cents per package in the cigarette tax.

—Property tax relief on a sliding scale ranging from $20 for a person who pays $100 a year in property taxes to a two-mill reduction on if the annual tax is over $4,000.

—Relief from resident and nonresident city income taxes on the same graduated formula.

—Repeal of the business activities tax and a cut in the intangible tax.

—Rebates to local government units, mostly counties, totaling an estimated $38.4 million a year.

Mohawk Asks Sabotage Probe In Jetliner Crash

BLOSSBURG, Pa. (AP) — The president of Mohawk Airlines has asked FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover to investigate a "strong suggestion of sabotage" in the crash of a jetliner Friday that killed 34 persons near here.

In a telegram to Hoover Friday night, Robert E. Peach, Mohawk president, said "evidence has developed in course of notification of next of kin of crash victims which leads to strong suggestion of sabotage."

He did not give any details of the evidence.

The plane — a BAC111 on Flight 40 bound from Syracuse, N.Y., to Washington, D.C. — plunged in a ball of flames onto Blossburg Mountain in north-central Pennsylvania at 2:50 p.m., shortly after it took off in overcast from Elmira, N.Y.

Witnesses said the wreckage was scattered over a wide area and that nearly all the bodies were mutilated and dismembered.

"I was in World War II and I never saw anything like that," said Raymond Smith, 48, who visited the scene.

Before Peach sent his telegram, a Mohawk spokesman said the FBI was routinely investigating any possibility of sabotage. FBI agents also were sent to the scene to help identify victims, and the National Transportation Safety Board, a newly established unit in the Department of Transportation, sent investigators.

Former Maine Gov. John H. Reed, a member of the board, said Friday night the airplane's flight recorder tape had been found, intact and would be sent to Washington for analysis.

No Bomb Evidence — He said investigators had heard reports of a bomb but that there was "no evidence to that effect, which has come to our attention at this moment."

Residents of Blossburg, a town of 1,956, about 30 miles south of Corning, N.Y., said they could tell the airliner was in trouble as it flew over.

"It sounded like the engine kept cutting out," one man said. Blossburg postmaster Louis Schultz said he saw the plane's left wing on fire and pieces of debris falling off.

Witnesses said the plane came down on a flat area of the mountain top.

A temporary morgue was established in the Blossburg fire hall, but some observers said identification would be an "almost impossible job." In addition to the FBI crew, pathologists and dentists were called to aid in identification.

The pilot was identified as Capt. Charles Bullock, 44, of Cazenovia, N.Y., who had been with Mohawk nearly 15 years.

It will be the first time away from the capital this week for the governor, who canceled appearances before Republican groups in Spring Lake, N.J., and Omaha, Neb., because of the stalemate with his tax programs in the Legislature.

Trustees Ask Two Mills:

County Votes Monday On College Question

Voters of Delta County will decide Monday in a special election whether or not Bay de Noc Community College will proceed this fall with a $2 million building program on its new campus.

The College Board of Trustees is asking approval of a proposal to levy two mills throughout the county to support the local share of the building proposals and provide additional operating funds.

Should the proposal fail, the College Board has not suggested any alternative plan. The proposal could be submitted a second time, but approval in another election would come too late to get plans designed and bids let to have a building ready for 1968 occupancy.

The Board has indicated it would be reluctant to issue bonds and collect taxes to retire them under its own powers.

Polls Open

About 1.65 mills of the two mills asked would go to retire building bonds with the remaining .35 providing the college with additional operating funds.

Polls will open at 7 a. m. and remain open to 8 p. m. in all townships and in the cities of Escanaba and Gladstone.

"The Governing Board of the college is asking for the two mill figure instead of a smaller amount to save considerable money in interest rates," said Joseph Heirman, board chairman. "By considering a 10-year bonding period, for example, instead of a 30-year period we will save about $500,000 in interest payments."

Based on Delta County's tax base of about $81,300,000, the two mill tax would raise about $162,000 annually in Delta County. About $27,350 of this would go into the college's general fund budget for operating expenses with the remainder used for bond debt retirement.

In the proposed $2 million building program, Delta County would share equally with the State of Michigan, each contributing about $1 million.

First building to be erected at the new campus, should the proposal be approved, would be a vocational-technical building. Plans call for the building to be in use by the fall of 1968.

Space Need Cited

College president Richard Rinehart said the building program is necessary both to accommodate increased student population and to provide a better facility for the college's vocational-technical programs.

"Our present building is designed for approximately 300 full time and 200 part time students and we are filled to capacity now, requiring more evening and Saturday classes next year," Rinehart said. "Since the building (the old Escanaba High School) was originally planned primarily as an academic facility, we cannot develop many of the vocational-technical programs needed for area youth."

Rinehart estimated the total full-time student population to be near 800 by 1975-76.

The question to be voted is: "Shall the annual tax rate of not to exceed one mill $1.00 on each $1,000 authorized to be levied by the Board of Trustees on the real and tangible personal property of Bay de Noc Community College, be increased by two mills on each dollar ($2.00 on each $1,000) of the assessed valuation as equalized, of the property within the district, in the manner and for the purposes provided by Act 331 of the Public Acts of 1966?"

Everyone May Vote

All qualified voters of the county may vote. The election is not restricted to property owners.

The two mill tax, unlike special taxes for local secondary school bond issues, will not expire with the retirement of the bonds. There is no time limit on its collection.

Bay de Noc Community College currently levies one mill across Delta County for operating expenses, which include salaries of instructors and administration, heat, lights, instructional materials, etc.

The additional .35 mill sought for the general fund would go to meet increased operating expenses, the board said, including a salary increase for teachers which was approved.

The board has indicated that with additional operating revenue from local sources or the state an increase in tuition probably would be needed.

Truck Industry Honors Olsen

Irving G. Olsen, vice president and general manager of Clairmont Transfer Co., has been elected to the board of governors of the Regular Common Carrier Conference, American Trucking Associations.

Clairmont Transfer Co. is a general commodity common carrier serving Louisville, Ky., Western Indiana, Eastern Wisconsin, the Upper Peninsula, and Chicago, through 18 terminals. Clairmont employs 800 and is expected to gross $12 million this year. The company has won several national and state industry awards over the past six years.

Olsen, a native of Homestead, Wis., has served 25 years in the transportation field. He is a member of the Escanaba Rotary Club, Masons and Shrine. He is married to the former Wanda Gross of Kingsford. They have four sons.

The Regular Common Carrier Conference is the national representative of the regular route highway common carrier trucking industry.

Kayak 'Rolling' To Munising

MUNISING (AP) — Three men paddling, pushing a and hitchhiking across North America in a kayak headed towards Munising today.

The three left Marquette Thursday night, rolling the kayak on a contraption on bicycle wheels.

Joe Meany, Art Morris and Gene Tetrault, all from Atikokan in southwestern Ontario, are taking the 24-foot kayak from Alberta in Western Canada to Montreal.

They are trying to retrace the route taken by the voyageurs, the men used by the fur companies in the 18th and 19th centuries to transport men, goods and furs from the remote Northwest to the East.

The three loaded the kayak on a National Park Service boat for a ride from Isle Royale in Lake Superior to the Keweenaw Peninsula.

Bad weather forced them to leave Marquette afloat, pushing the kayak ahead of them.

MUCC Asks Curb On Bear Hunting

MANISTEE (AP) — Resolutions asking restrictions on commercial fishing and bear hunting and others asking for more salmon planting and longer hunting seasons for woodcock, grouse and squirrels were passed Friday during the annual meeting of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs.

Proposals asking for a hunting season on mourning doves and a separate hunting season for waterfowl in the Upper Peninsula were defeated.

Verne Bathurst, a conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service, told the group that conservationists should work more closely with farmers to produce more game on private land.

Mental Health Clinics Joined

MARQUETTE — Integration of the Upper Peninsula Child Guidance and Adult Mental Health clinics into one organization was approved Friday by the clinics' respective boards in a joint session, a move climaxing months of discussion and debate.

The two boards okayed an agreement which "binds together the clinics as one group, without taking legal steps which dissolves either board as an incorporated body." The new organization is known as the Upper Peninsula Integrated Child-Adult Mental Health Clinic.

Dr. David Wall, psychiatrist heading the mental health clinic, was named co-ordinator of the integrated group. Donald Pascoe continues as director of Child Guidance Clinics, under Wall. Both are from Marquette.

The action was required to qualify for state assistance.

Hart Foresees Lengthy War

DETROIT (AP) — U.S. Sen. Philip A. Hart said Friday his trip to Vietnam convinced him we need to stay there, but he said this country faces a long, tough struggle.

Hart said there were indications of progress on both fronts — military and the "other war" on poverty and disease.

But he said, a purely military victory "is not possible. For one thing, China and Russia cannot afford to let their men get destroyed, any more than we could afford to let South Vietnam be destroyed."

He said "The Revolutionary Development Program is making some progress" in uniting South Vietnam, but "corruption and political infighting continue and there is a great lack of leadership."

Hart said this country never should have gotten into the Vietnam struggle, "because originally it was a mostly internal conflict without significant effect on our national interest or the Asian balance of power."

However, the senator said, since we have intervened, "our own national interest requires that we not get out and not perform in a way that to the Asian eye would appear a faltering on our word and will. We'll be judged by other nations on the way we act out there."

Schedule Listed For Royce Park

The city recreation department today listed a new schedule for the Royce Park arts and crafts program:

Children from 5 to 7 will attend from 9:30 to 11:30 a. m. Monday through Friday. Children 8-12 will attend from 1:30 to 3:30 p. m. Monday through Thursday and 1 to 3 p. m. Friday. There will be no sessions in case of rain.

Parents are asked to send their children only at the times listed for their age group.

Farm Piecework Wage Rates Set

LANSING (AP) — The State Labor Department has announced minimum piecework pay rates for farm workers hired to harvest 10 types of Michigan crops.

"Under the law farm piecework wages must be set to give a minimum wage of $1.25 an hour for average workers," said Department Director Thomas Rounell. There may be deductions for fringe benefits, he added.

Group 1 crops and pay schedules are: Asparagus, $.039 per lb.; fresh strawberries, $.09 per qt.; process strawberries, $.065 per lb.; tart cherries, $.70-er 27 lb. lug; sweet cherries, $.77 per 24 lb. lug; yellow onions, $.097 per five peck crate; white onions, $.16 per five peck crate; radishes, $.208 per dozen bunches at 18-20 per bunch; greens, $.221 per 25 lb. crate; green onions, $.025 per 8-9 onion bunch.

Court Says 'No':

Escanaba Tardy In Appeal From Board Decision

The Michigan Supreme Court has advised the City of Escanaba that its application for leave to appeal from a ruling of the Labor Mediation Board in the city's dispute over union representation of its police officers has been denied.

The denial is based in a technicality and does not reflect on the merits of the case.

The Labor Mediation Board had, after hearings and an election, certified Teamsters Union 328 as the legal representative of city police officers for purposes of collective bargaining. Escanaba's City Council unanimously refused to recognize the Teamsters Union as the bargaining agent for the officers, citing conflict of interest if police were members of a union other than a police association.

The Teamsters Union charged that the city by this refusal was engaging in unfair labor practices.

The Mediation Board ordered the city to recognize the Teamsters for purposes of collective bargaining and the city filed applications with the Supreme Court for leave to appeal because of the illness of the city attorney and his absence for reasons of health.

At a session of the Supreme Court on June 21, the Court ordered the city's application for leave to appeal denied because of the lateness of the filing, and also denied the application for a delayed appeal.

Escanaba City Attorney John G. Erickson noted that the City still has an appeal pending in the Appellate Court of Michigan and that the Court has not yet ruled on this appeal.

He indicated that should the Appellate Court rule against the city it is the city's intention to appeal to the Supreme Court; and should the Appellate Court find against the Teamsters Union, the Union may appeal.

Meanwhile in the Legislature there are bills pending which propose to deal with the controversial subject of police membership in open unions.

Toll Free Road Funds Assured For Ontonagon

State Senator Joseph S. Mack, (D-Ironwood) and Rep. Russell Hellman, (D-Dollar Bay) announced today that the Michigan State Supreme Court has ruled that the State Highway Commission has failed to persuade the court that it has a meritorious basis for appeal from "Mack" amendment to a 1966 Highway bill granting Ontonagon County $1.4 million to match federal funds for the construction of the Toll Free Road.

In an earlier decision the Court of Appeals sustained the constitutionality of the Mack amendment, indicating the legislator's prerogative in directing that the federal funds for the construction of the Toll Free Road be matched by state contributions.

The bill was signed by the Governor but the Highway Department refused to release the $1.4 million.

Mack stated that Attorney General Frank J. Kelley would direct the Highway Commission to immediately release the funds to Ontonagon County.

To Replace Manistique, Menominee?

Green Bay Explored For Lake Car Ferry

GREEN BAY — Green Bay may become an all year around port if the Ann Arbor Railroad car ferry fleet is scheduled into its harbor.

Ann Arbor, and its parent railroad, the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton, have no comment on any such proposal now, but they did run the car ferry, City of Green Bay, into Green Bay recently on a trial run — "to check running times, navigational conditions, and the feasibility of the future possibility of operating car ferries to handle rail and passenger traffic directly between Green Bay and Frankfort, Mich." according to a company announcement.

The car ferry run was from Keweenaw to Green Bay and back.

Ann Arbor officials said that the study is being made because of imminent railroad mergers now under investigation, and the changing transportation conditions in Wisconsin, Minnesota and the northwest area served by the Ann Arbor Railroad.

There was no comment on whether Ann Arbor plans to make Green Bay another car ferry port, except that there was a possibility of direct freight and passenger traffic between Green Bay and Frankfort.

Frankfort, Mich., is the northern terminal of Ann Arbor railroad which runs from Toledo, Ohio, to Frankfort, Mich., and is linked by car ferry service to Menominee and Manistique, Mich., and Keweenaw and Manitowoc.

Ann Arbor is trying to abandon the Port of Manistique and the Manistique & Lake Superior Railroad, which it owns. The M&LS connects Manistique with Shingleton, 60 miles to the north, a connection with the old Duluth South Shore & Atlantic, and the Soo Line.

For many years, Ann Arbor has been dissatisfied with the Port of Menominee because of severe ice conditions in the winter and the longer haul from Frankfort. Shippers of the Menominee - Marinette area, however, are making all out efforts to retain the port, which was once one of the most lucrative ports of the entire Ann Arbor system.

The Ann Arbor line started in 1892 from Frankfort to Keweenaw and the first ship, the Ann Arbor No. 1, started in September, 1892. In 1894 the run was extended from Frankfort to Menominee, and another branch to Escanaba and Gladstone in 1895.

Manitowoc was added in 1896. In 1898, the Gladstone-Escanaba run was shifted to Manistique, during the winter and four years later it was made permanent and Escanaba-Gladstone abandoned. In 1911, Ann Arbor purchased the Manistique & Lake Superior Railroad at Manistique.

If Ann Arbor came into Green Bay it would mean building port facilities, dock space and railroad loading aprons.

Railroad car ferry service usually seeks outer harbor docks that afford protection. All of the present dock space for the Ann Arbor fleet is behind breakwalls or natural harbors.

Police To Boost July 4 Patrols

LANSING (AP) — Michigan state police will pay special attention to July 4 weekend motorists, Col. Frederick E. Davids, director, said Friday.

Police patrols will provide maximum coverage during the hours from 3 p.m. until at least 9 p.m. from Friday through Midnight Tuesday, Davids said. State police vehicle inspection personnel and department plans, weather permitting, will join in the patrol activity, he said, with patrols giving extra attention to highway areas having bad accident records.

Davids said 39 persons were killed in Michigan auto accidents during the recent 102-hour memorial day weekend and 28 died in last year's 78-hour July 4 period.

The upcoming holiday period will last 102 hours.

Drillers Hit Oil Near Flushing

FLUSHING (AP) — A 20-barrel-a-day oil well has been discovered on a rural Flushing farm belonging to Clair Wendling, the Palmer Drilling Co. of Allegan said Friday.

A spokesman said the oil, discovered at the 1,646-foot level, is of a high quality. A second test well is being drilled in the vicinity, he added.

Under an arrangement with the drilling company, Wendling gets one barrel out of every eight. The oil is valued at $2.90 a barrel, the spokesman said.

Grand Rapids Slashes Budget

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The executive staff of the Grand Rapids Board of Education has recommended a cut of $1,332,038 in the school system's operating budget and a reduction of 165 in the teaching staff.

The move came Friday in the wake of the defeat of a proposed five mill tax increase by the voters June 5.

Legislature Moves To Aid Community College

A unique action by the Legislature has been initiated regarding the role of the community colleges throughout the state.

Partially as a result of questions raised by voters in Delta County regarding the equity of local tax usage for community college purposes, a resolution has been introduced in the legislature to its intent on state and technical and occupational training programs.

Expansion of such vocational programs for high school graduates, recently proposed by some of the universities in Michigan, seemed to be leading to a situation wherein people who lived near the university could take part in these educational programs without paying the local tax required of citizens in a community college district.

The governing board of Bay de Noc Community College and the college administration took this problem to the Legislature and various state agencies last week. The college acted because of next Monday's millage election as well as its long range plan. As a result of these meetings, legislators said they intend that community colleges will be encouraged by the state to offer these programs and that the universities should help community college growth. The Legislators agreed that the community colleges, with their local tax support in addition to state funds, and their ability to keep costs to the students at a minimum, should be the principal agency for developing these job training services.

In spite of the hectic schedule and tremendous pressures regarding taxation and appropriations, a resolution was introduced into the Legislature by Senators Thomas Schweigert (R-Petoskey) and Raymond Dzundzel (D-Detroit). A key statement in the resolution is:

"Resolved, that the Boards of Control of the state's public four year colleges and universities (other than Ferris State and Lake Superior State College) be encouraged to offer only those associate degree or occupational - technical programs that will not tend to compete and weaken programs offered by the public junior and community colleges."

The Bay de Noc College Board expressed appreciation for the leadership of Senators Schweigert and Dzundzel and of Rep. Charles Varnum (R-Manistique) in introducing the legislation.

Schweigert said Friday that the resolution on state intention in support of academic and technical-occupation programs leading to an associate degree could not be acted upon by the Senate until next Tuesday. Varnum said the House would act when it received the concurrent resolution from the Senate.

The action would thus come after Monday's election on Bay de Noc College's 2 mills. "It got caught in the jam of effort for appropriations and tax reform," said Schweigert.

State Prepares For 'Austerity'

LANSING (AP) — Highway construction and maintenance programs will have to be reduced beginning July 1 if the Legislature adopts an austerity budget, the State Highway Commission said Friday.

Meanwhile, State Treasurer Allison Green asked the Department of Civil Service for permission to cut the department employee work week to meet any austerity budget.

Gov. George Romney has warned that an austerity budget will be necessary unless new revenue-raising sources are found by the end of the fiscal year (June 30) to meet increased government costs.

Acting State Highway Director Henrik E. Stafseth said he has been told by the governor $811.6 million in highway funds will be transferred to State Police should the austerity budget be enacted by the Legislature.

Green proposed that rather than lay off 125 employees, a half force could be maintained on Fridays, alternating employees so that each would work nine regular days in each two-week pay period. They would be paid only for time worked.

Margarine as a butter substitute was developed in France in the 19th century, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

NATIONAL chairman of the Council of Safety Supervisors of the American Trucking Association is B. N. Barnhart of the Clairmont Transfer Co., Escanaba. He was elected to the position at a recent meeting of the Council in Salt Lake City, Utah.

MUCC Gets Bad News

Austerity To Cut Fish Plan

MANISTEE (AP) — Michigan may have to close some of its state parks, eliminating 187 jobs, because of the $28 million proposed austerity budget for the State Conservation Department, Conservation Director Ralph A. MacMullan says.

MacMullan was the keynote speaker Thursday at the 30th annual convention of Michigan United Conservation Clubs, which runs through Saturday.

MacMullan, who learned of Gov. George Romney's austerity budget for conservation two hours before he spoke, said the budget does not allow any new programs and would mean drastic curtailment of some of the old projects, including planting of salmon and steelhead trout in the Great Lakes.

MacMullan said the austerity budget demonstrates the eagerness with which federal agencies rush in to fill a vacuum created by any state which refuses to help itself.

"And we are making a lulu of a vacuum in Michigan," he said.

He also attacked what he termed the double standard of land acquisition by the state or federal government.

"When a new federal area is established, such as the Pictured Rocks National Lake-shore, Congress provides that lands owned by the state and local units of government can be acquired only by donation," he said.

"However, when another 5,000 acres of federal land and Fort Custer was declared surplus by the federal government, we were required to compete for the privilege of buying the land.

"These lands originally were given to the federal government by Michigan."

Delegates at the convention defeated resolutions calling for special outdoor motor tax, a study seeking reinstatement of fox and bobcat bounties, and increases in state park fees for nonresidents.

Approved were resolutions calling for mandatory hunter safety training, licensing of snowmobiles, opposition to antiquing legislation, and one calling for full discretionary powers for the State Conservation Department over all natural resources.

The Michigan United Conservation Clubs comprises 350

sportsmen and conservation clubs throughout Michigan.

Dodd Is Censured

Senator Thomas J. Dodd, Democrat of Connecticut, was censured by the Senate Friday for converting to his personal use money obtained from the public through testimonial functions and political campaigns.

He was only the sixth man in the history of the Senate to be condemned by fellow senators.

Early in the proceedings there was some question whether the Senate would condemn Dodd, a former FBI man and undistinguished member of the upper house who is known best for his yearly sponsorship of a gun control bill and his unending chase of communists. But when the Senate Ethics Committee headed by Senator John Stennis recommended censure there didn't seem to be much basis for defense.

The committee recommended that Dodd be censured for spending $116,083 in campaign gifts for his personal use and also double-billing the government for $1,764 in travel expenses.

Any problem that the public might have judging Dodd can be understood in light of some senators' inability to do so. Senator Gordon Allott (R-Colorado) and Senator Jack Miller (R-Iowa) would have excused Dodd's double billing for official trips because he first paid for the trips with his Senate credit card and later billed private groups for the same trips. It seemed to Miller that Dodd had enriched himself at the expense of the public and not the Senate — as though dishonesty depended upon the theater of operation.

Senator Carl Curtis (R-Nebraska) spoke a widely held distaste but shoddy logic when he suggested that the censure would reflect on the Senate because of the part played in the inquiry by muckraking columnists Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson. Curtis regarded Pearson and Anderson as "scoundrels" and Dodd himself called the columnists "unscrupulous character assassins."

But the Senate was confronted with some odious evidence by them. Stennis noted that there wasn't much dispute about the evidence. There was a sadness among the senators in bringing down their colleague. All senators know the difficulty of drawing a fine line separating their personal spending from their official spending and they also know the demands of office for large gobs of expense money.

They should also know, and it seems hard for some of them to learn it, that the public is going to be crooked if the Senate is. The Harris Poll reported that Americans by a 13 to 1 margin believed that Dodd was guilty of misconduct in office and that the Senate should take disciplinary action against him.

A plurality of the American public — 42 per cent to 37 per cent — believes that a number of congressmen are being bought off to favor or oppose certain legislation. In such a state of mistrust, what does a Dodd case do to faith in governmental honesty?

The Senate has made what amends it could by censuring him. The manner of his entrapment by his own office staff, which turned over a truckload of his private papers to Pearson and Anderson, gives the case a sleazy character, but the undisputed facts remain. Dodd sent a check for the double billing on travel expense but the Senate didn't believe his explanation about bad bookkeeping, nor did it accept his suggestion that the testimonial and campaign gifts were for his personal spending.

Dodd's chief defender was Senator Russell Long (D-Louisiana) and with such a friend he hardly needed enemies. Long spent hours on banalities and irrelevancies and he embarrassed Dodd as much as the Senate. Dodd's own defense of his integrity was weakened by Long's bombast.

It has been a sorry chapter of government. But it had some impressive performances. Stennis was judicious. Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield (Montana) and Republican Minority Leader Everett Dirksen (Illinois) agreed that the senate was on trial with Dodd. Senator McCarthy (D-Minnesota) of the Ethics Committee, said he'd resign from the committee if the Senate failed to support the resolution of censure.

McCarthy opposed pro-Dodd forces who said the committee had to prove conclusively that Dodd had boobyed. McCarthy said if that were true the committee had to be prosecutors and that no one would serve on such a committee. It was, he said, sufficient that adequate proof be shown by the committee. Four of the 100 senators voted against censure, two in hospitals didn't vote and one was absent.

Venezuela Annoyed Hippies Plot School Chaos

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — It was not one of Fidel Castro's good days when, late this spring, four Cubans of military status tried to land undetected on a Venezuelan beach. They were escorted twice as many Venezuelans, Communist-trained subversives carrying nearly $10,000 in cash.

The mission aborted. One Cuban was drowned, another was killed, the other two, along with the Venezuelans, were captured. One of these later committed suicide, leaving one Cuban army officer in Venezuela's hands. He has fully confessed the subversive intent of the mission.

Representatives of the Organization of American States, acting in accord with a formal Venezuela protest against Cuba, have recently visited Venezuela to look into the episode first-hand.

Verbal condemnation of Cuba by the OAS seems likely, but this is hardly enough to satisfy the annoyed President Leoni of Venezuela. Officials there assume other Cuban-led landing missions have succeeded, and an estimated 150 key Red subversives are believed to be operating within the country.

No major new alarm is felt. Big guerrilla activity has nearly ceased. Nuisance bombings still go on in Caracas and elsewhere, but they can have no seriously disruptive effect upon the Leoni government. Yet Venezuelans appear weary of the harassment.

Their country is no longer getting the lion's share of Red attention in Latin America. Its progressive government and its economic gains have made it singularly invulnerable. That it still figures sharply in Communist strategy for Latin America is explained largely by one thing—its rich resources in oil and, to a lesser extent, iron ore.

The importance of Venezuela's oil to the free world has been drummed in by the Middle East war, with its disruption of normal oil flow to the West.

Venezuela is the largest single oil-exporting nation in the world, and the third largest producer behind the United States and Russia. The United States, which turns out 8.3 million barrels a day, gets nearly 1.4 million a day directly from Venezuela or indirectly, through refineries in the Dutch West Indies.

Any long-continued interruption of the Middle Eastern flow may put new demands upon the Venezuelan fields, particularly to supply Europe, the chief loser from the Arab cutoff.

Probably these demands would be met in considerable part. But if the Venezuelans are fretting over too much Communist attention, they complain some of American inattention and lack of consideration.

Their proven oil reserves may last no more than 20 years at present producing rates (though other fields still may be found). They are not eager to draw too heavily upon these reserves. They are likely to resist any American or European attitude which might suggest that Venezuelan oil can be controlled by a spigot at the will of outsiders, as ording to their current needs.

Lions often hunt in parties, called "prides," of four or five, or even up to 28.

The Leoni government might be a little happier if it were shipping the United States more crude oil than it does. But roughly half its exports to us are the cheaper residual fuel oils.

Already noted in print is the further complaint that the existing U. S. oil-import quota system discriminates against Venezuela and favors lesser suppliers to the United States specifically, Canada and Mexico. It is here that crude oil imports suffer heavily.

Obviously Venezuela is a firm U. S. friend. Its sense of national assurance and its cordiality might grow rapidly, however, if this country were to work out more considerable oil arrangements and if all the American lands would do more than just talk about slapping down Castro for his subversive harassments.

Letters To Ann Landers

The Press Uninvited Guests Are Really Pests

Contributions are welcome. They cannot be over 200 words and must be signed with name, address and phone number of writer and names will be used. The right to condense letters is reserved.

CANCER
To Citizens of Delta County:
It is with great pride that I salute the citizens of Delta County for their generous contributions in putting the Cancer Crusade over the top again this year.

To date we have collected $8,645.34, which puts us over our quota for the second straight year.

I would like to be able to personally thank each and every person and organization for their invaluable assistance in this campaign.

To all the township chairmen — Baldwin, Bark River, Bay de Noc, Brampton, Cornell, Ensign, Escanaba, Fairbanks, Ford River, Garden, Maple Ridge, Masonville, Nahma and Wells, a very special salute for an excellent job. Each and every township exceeded the previous year's figures.

To the chairmen of Gladstone, congratulations for again bettering their last year's "best ever." It is only with dedicated workers such as Mesdames Bernard Olson, Norman Nelson, Cliff D'Arcy, James Peterson, and Joseph Butch that a drive can be successful.

To Clyde Nyquist for his help in soliciting the unions of Delta County and to the taverns of Delta County for their cooperation in this worthwhile cause.

To all the Escanabans who assisted but especially to the block workers and area captains, the Holy Name Key Club, the Escanaba and Holy Name High School Student Councils, the Daily Press crew who assisted in the business drive, Boy Scout Troop 408, WDBC, WLST and to Jim Kennedy and Ann Ottensman I express my appreciation.

Dear Mayor Van:

Your courtesy in meeting me at the airport, and accompanying me and in introducing me at the meeting on Saturday night is deeply appreciated.

It was a real pleasure for me to visit your wonderful city. I was impressed by everything I saw, and I hope that the opportunity will be available again for me to visit your area.

If you ever have the opportunity to be in our section of this great country, I hope you will take time to come by my office to see me.

Again, thank you for all your many courtesies and with kind personal regards, I am

Dear Ann Landers: You recently printed a letter from a 15-year-old girl whose foreign-born parents refused to speak English.

My parents came to this country from Latvia. They spoke Latvian all the time. When I started school I couldn't speak one word of English. I attended Latvian church, joined a Latvian Girl Scout troop, took piano lessons from a Latvian teacher and pretty soon I got to hate everything Latvian because it was forced on me.

When I was 14 my folks sent me (screaming) to a Latvian camp in Michigan. There I met a Latvian boy who changed my thinking. He helped me understand that my parents were trying to preserve their culture, and that the only way to do it was through their children.

I met several other kids who were proud to be Latvians. (I had always been ashamed.) Now I know I want to marry a Latvian boy (I don't know who yet) and pass on this wonderful heritage to my children. — PROUD NOW

Dear Proud: Some members of minority groups wish they could be something else. It takes a smart cookie to be proud of her heritage. I salute you.

Dear Ann Landers: Nice weather is here — and with it the eternal affliction. Guests. I sometimes wish we didn't have such a comfortable and attractive summer home because uninvited friends and relatives think we are running a hotel.

I am just now recuperating from my third batch of visitors and most of the summer is ahead.

I am going through the menopause but I manage to hold down a full-time job as well as keep the house going. All winter I look forward to casual outdoor living during the summer months. With company around it is a strain, not to mention the extra work.

Some people enjoy out-of-town guests. I am not writing for them. I am writing for myself and for others who want to be alone. If any of you reading this column wonder if you are a welcome guest, ask yourself one question: "Was I invited?" If you were, GO. If not, do somebody a favor and stay home. — HOLIDAY OUT, NOT INN

Dear Holiday: Here's your letter and lotsa luck. The pests never think you mean THEM. For the repeaters, a "Sorry, not this year," should be the standard reply when they announce they're going to honor you with a visit.

Dear Ann Landers: Will you settle a family dispute? I have a very good friend who attends another school on the other side of town. We are both honor students and do not goof off. We like to talk on the phone during the week every night to relieve the monotony of studying. I say a 15 or 20-minute conversation is not excessive. My mother says five minutes is plenty for teen-agers to "yak about nothing."

Please take a stand on this. Your column is respected in our home. — CLOCKED IN POUCHKEEPSIE

Dear Clocked: I feel that 15 minutes is not unreasonable for a teen-age phone chat — provided, of course, Mom or Dad does not need the phone for a specific reason. Telephoning is a good outlet — furthermore, kids who are at home are not out getting into trouble.

Drinking may be "in" to the kids you run with — but it can put you "out" for keeps. You can cool it and stay popular. Read "Booze and You — For Teen-Agers Only." Send 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Austerity Can Kill Plan For Mental Health

The Upper Peninsula's emerging mental health program faces a threat of death before it can get started if the Legislature fails to vote tax reform.

This was the import of a statement by Dr. George Maniaci of Gladstone, vice president of the Michigan Association for Retarded Children, in 16th annual session today at Au Sable Lodge, Gaylord.

Speaking for the M.A.R.C., whose directors unanimously adopted a resolution urging the Legislature to "enact adequate tax reform to prevent drastic mental health conditions", Dr. Maniaci said:

"Unless a realistic tax reform is forthcoming from the Legislature, many of the services that have made Michigan a leader in the nation in the field of education, mental health and vocational rehabilitation will have to be greatly curtailed. Such curtailment would cause Michigan to lose many of its nationally-known professionals in these fields."

"The State has already started preparing for an austerity budget, should no additional revenues be provided by cutting back the program (of mental health services) with recent announcement that an additional 1,100 state employees would be released on June 30. The total cutback of services would be approximately 18 per cent."

"Many of the developing community mental health services in the Upper Peninsula counties under Act 54 (the Michigan law on mental health program state subsidies) would be virtually eliminated before becoming operational."

"Special education programs would be thrown back to their very limited service level of 1960. Hospital care for patients at Newberry State Hospital would be reduced to very limited custodial care at best."

Dr. Maniaci, a long time worker for services for the retarded in Delta County, has been a leader in the effort to enlist more Delta County support for a mental health program under Act 54. Delta has teamed with the Marquette-Alger Mental Health District to share some mental health services and aids. This program would be imperiled by the austerity program.

Old Soldiers 'Need Pasture'

TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — The oldest enlisted man in the Air Force celebrates his 74th birthday today.

M.Sgt. Stewart G. Hicks, who retires July 17, served under U.S. and Canadian flags in three wars.

Hicks, a construction inspector, was given a birthday party Friday by his mates of the 60th Engineering Squadron.

During the cake-and-coffee affair, Hicks said to a fellow airman, "They say old soldiers never die, but they have to be put out to pasture eventually."

Liquor Hearing Here Monday

The Michigan Liquor Control Commission comes to Escanaba for its annual Upper Peninsula meeting next Monday and it will conduct a public hearing at 8 p.m. on state liquor control.

The public is invited to the public meeting at the State Office Building where it can ask questions and confer with the commission and its aides on liquor control problems.

The Liquor Control Commission will start two days of meetings at the House of Ludington at 9 a.m. Tuesday. John C. Bennett, Lansing, director of state operations, and Dexter J. Babcock, Escanaba, U.P. district manager, will conduct a training school for the Upper Peninsula's liquor store managers.

Stanley G. Thayer, Ann Arbor, the new chairman of the Liquor Control Commission, and George J. Burke, Jr., business manager of the commission, will head the group of officials coming here for the sessions.

Briefly Told

The condition of Mark Olson, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard E. Olson, of 327 S. 17th St., is reported as unchanged today. Mark fractured his neck Thursday when he dove into shallow water at the Escanaba beach. He was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital, Green Bay.

Ronald W. Young, 1412 10th Ave. S., Escanaba, escaped injury at 5:15 a. m. today when he was forced off County Road 426 and D 12 by another auto at 5:15 a. m. His car hit the ditch and was damaged, but the driver was unhurt, Sheriff's officers reported.

State Police of the Gladstone post issued traffic court notices to Richard Deno, Escanaba Rte. 1, no registration or proof of insurance; Donald Chenier, Gladstone Rte. 1, expired operator's license and no proof of insurance; Rita Mae Wellman, Wells, expired operator's license and no proof of insurance.

Donald Broeders, 27, of Perkins, reported to State Police that his pickup truck struck a deer that jumped into County Road 428 in Baldwin Township at 10:20 p. m. Friday.

State Police of the Gladstone post ticketed two motorists whose cars were involved in a collision on U. S. 2-41 about 1 1/2 miles west of Escanaba at 11:05 p. m. Friday. William Kolehmainen, 19, of Hancock, whose car struck the rear of the auto in front of him, was ticketed for careless driving; and Louis Racicot, Bark River Rte. 2, the other driver, received a traffic notice for failing to have proof of insurance.

Escanaba police have issued traffic court summonses to Dean F. Gillespie, 318 N. 15th St., speeding; John D. Krause, Bark River, careless driving; Robert F. Triest, Spalding, defective lights; Paul E. Johnson, 1008 2nd Ave. N., disobeying a stop sign; Robert M. Hansen, 1210 S. 16th St., speeding and expired operator's license; Willard W. pounds of bombs, blasted the area where the airborne troops took a beating Thursday.

Troopers sweeping over the area Friday reported skirmishes with small groups of North Vietnamese troops. They said they found 75 Communist bunkers, more than half of them spattered with fresh blood.

U.S. headquarters said no significant fighting had been reported since midnight Friday.

Although some U.S. officers at the scene estimated that as many as 450 North Vietnamese troops were killed, an official communique issued in Saigon said, "No firm enemy casualty count has been reported."

The Communist troops were identified as a battalion—perhaps 400 to 500 men—of the 24th North Vietnamese Regiment. It was the first time this unit has been reported in action in South Vietnam.

In the air war, U.S. pilots flew a near-record 171 missions over North Vietnam Friday. It was the most missions since the record of 175 flown last Oct. 14.

Among the key targets was the Nam Dinh electric power plant 46 miles south-southeast of Hanoi. It was the second raid in two days against the facility.

In the air war, U.S. warplanes struck near Hanoi for the second straight day Friday, blasting the Nam Dinh electric power plant south of the North Vietnamese capital.

U.S. Navy bombers from the carrier Constellation assaulted the power plant, 46 miles south-southeast of Hanoi. U.S. headquarters said aerial surveillance photos taken after the raid showed that the generator hall of the 7,500-kilowatt power plant had been demolished, and other facilities heavily damaged.

On June 12, after three straight days of U.S. raids on North Vietnamese power plants, it was reported that 11 of the country's 12 power plants had been hit by U.S. bombers.

In other air action Friday Navy planes pounded rail lines 48 miles south-southeast of Hanoi. Aerial photos showed 17 boxcars damaged and all tracks either cut up or blocked. Pilots also reported silencing three anti-aircraft gun sites in the area.

During the Navy assaults, Air Force F-105 Thunderchiefs plastered the Kep railroad yards, crowded with an estimated 100 boxcars. Rail lines were chopped up and a number of cars destroyed, pilots reported.

Thailand-based Air Force jets attacked a surface-to-air missile site 35 miles northwest of Hanoi and pilots reported setting off orange flames and thick black smoke.

Michigan Tech Seeks FM Permit

Delta County Sheriff's Department investigated the breaking and entering of the Emmett Meehan cabin, Ford River, where there was some property damage. Meehan, who resides at 1522 S. 17th St., reported the incident Friday evening.

Blind Puppy To Get Home Without Kids

DETROIT (AP)—Queenie, an eyeless puppy left in a church with a note saying she wanted "a home and some children to play with," will have the home, but no children.

The Michigan Humane Society which normally would have killed the puppy, now is choosing from hundreds of calls and telegrams from people all over the map who want to give Queenie a home.

George T. Roumell, a prominent Detroit caterer, Thursday donated $500 to the Humane Society to provide medical care for Queenie and other animals.

"I'm blind in my left eye and am losing the sight in my right eye," Roumell said, "and I love animals."

Earlier the Detroit Press Club offered to sponsor her as its mascot.

Telegrams offering homes for Queenie included one from Ralph Russell, of Birmingham, Ala., who said he had raised a blind cat.

MRS. HOWARD HEBERT attends a 5-week-old black and white female puppy that someone left in St. Suzanne's Church in Detroit. The dog was shivering, frightened and blind. Mrs. Hebert found the pup and a note attached to its collar explaining in part: "My name is Queenie. I am about 4 or 5 weeks old and I cannot see. The Michigan Humane Society said I would be put to sleep because no one wants a blind animal." The Society confirmed this but added that the pup could be raised with extra care. (AP Wirephoto)

Board Proposes Fee For Booze Aboard Airlines

WASHINGTON (AP) — You'll have to pay to tipple while flying commercially if the Civil Aeronautics Board has its way.

The board proposed Friday that all airlines charge passengers separate fees for alcoholic beverages they consume. At present, free drinks are provided for first-class passengers on most major airlines. Coach passengers pay $1 a drink.

The CAB maintained providing liquor was a separate service apart from the transportation functions of the airlines and that passengers should directly bear the cost.

The airlines have until July 24 to present arguments against the proposal.

In Norse mythology, Valhalla was the gold and silver palace of Odin, where he received the souls of heroes slain in battle.

Mrs. M. Girard Dies Suddenly

Mrs. Margaret Girard, 53, of 317 Ogden Ave., died suddenly at 7:40 p.m. Friday at St. Francis Hospital.

The former Margaret Plant was born March 22, 1914 in Escanaba and was a member of St. Joseph's Church. She was a graduate of St. Joseph High School and attended St. Mary's of the Woods and Rosary Colleges.

Mrs. Girard was a member of the Escanaba Yacht Club and before her marriage was a member of the Carnegie Library staff.

Survivors include her husband Lawrence; a son Larry of Escanaba; one brother, Archie Plant of Warren, Mich. and her mother, Mrs. Augusta Plant of Escanaba.

Friends may call at the Boyce Funeral Home from 3:30 to 9:30 p.m. Monday at St. Joseph's Church in Escanaba with Rev. Jordan Telles officiating. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery.

LOTS OF CALORIES

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO ALL DELTA COUNTY TAXPAYERS

The special election on June 26th asks that you vote on the request by the Bay de Noc Community College for an additional 2 mills above the 1 mill they got in 1964. In other words they want a cool million dollars from the home-owners in Delta County to support the vast expansion building program the College has planned.

PLEASE CONSIDER THE FOLLOWING FACTS BEFORE VOTING

1. Real Estate taxes are approximately double compared to 12 years ago.
2. Increase in Real Estate taxes increases rentals.
3. Fire insurance is more than double in the past 3 or 4 years.
4. Automobile insurance has increased so much that many car owners can't afford to insure their cars.
5. Material, supplies and labor costs have gone up tremendously.
6. Escanaba citizens will begin to pay a sewers monthly charge from $1.50 and up.
7. Look for a possible refuse or garbage monthly charge in the near future.
8. Your Federal Income Tax will be increased.
9. A Michigan State Income Tax is also expected this year.

HIGHER TAXES HELP TO MAKE HIGHER PRICES

The June 19th issue of our local Press reads: "Michigan faces Crises in Finances on July 1."

It is obvious that the College feels that the home-owners and people who rent in Delta County cannot afford to pay higher taxes because the College has carried on quite a campaign for the vast improvement program these past 3 or 4 months.

This week's U. S. News & World Report magazine, on page 14, quotes as follows: "... recent survey of 1400 families that has postponed purchases of new cars, furniture and other major items, gave three principal reasons:

1. Worry about world affairs;
2. Worry about Vietnam-war effects;
3. Worry about higher taxes."

Also, on page 15: "Borrowing, instead of becoming easier, less expensive, is becoming more difficult again, and more expensive. Interest rates are edging steadily higher."

The Escanaba Area Public School Board has had a most difficult time the past 10 years securing adequate funds for the operation of the schools. The additional millage for the College will only make it more difficult to raise sufficient funds for the secondary schools.

It is high time that these requests for higher taxes every year should be opposed. Your vote June 26th is very important. Consider the above facts, and if you cannot afford to pay higher taxes and higher rent, you will

VOTE NO.

Kathleen Hogan Bride Of Richard C. Brunet

Miss Kathleen Ann Hogan and Richard Clare Brunet were united in marriage during ceremonies performed Saturday, June 17 at St. Peter's Cathedral in Marquette.

Msgr. Nolan McKeivitt officiated at the double ring nuptials at 2 p. m. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Bernard Hogan of 403 Genesee St., Marquette and the late Mr. Hogan. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Clare Brunet of 505 S. 17th St., Escanaba.

Matron of honor for her sister was Mrs. Robert Ladeck of Evergreen Park, Ill. and Allen Gardiner of Escanaba served as bestman. Seating the guests were Michael and Timothy Hogan, brothers of the bride.

Mrs. Richard Brunet, mother of the bride, was ring bearer.

Organza, Taffeta

The bride chose for her wedding a floor length gown of organza over taffeta fashioned with a scoop neckline, three quarter length sleeves and modified A-line skirt. The gown, trimmed with Swiss puff embroidery and adorned with seed pearls, featured a chapel length detachable train.

A pearl tiara secured her elbow length veil of illusion and she carried a bouquet of pink, blue, white and yellow daisies.

The matron of honor was attired in a floor length gown of melon colored double woven crepe styled with a lace bodice and Kabuki sleeves. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations and daisies.

Mother's Attire

Julie Gardiner was flower girl and wore a floor length blue gown with a lace bodice and Kabuki sleeves. She carried a basket of carnations and colored daisies. Brian Hogan, a nephew of the bride was ring bearer.

The mother of the bride wore a turquoise ensemble of lace over taffeta with a white straw hat and was presented a corsage of cymbidium orchids. Mrs. Brunet selected a blue print sheath dress with white accessories and was presented a corsage of white carnations and red roses.

A wedding dinner was served following the ceremony at the Northwoods Supper Club of Marquette.

Upon returning from a wedding trip to southern Wisconsin the newlyweds will reside at 1615 4th Ave. S., Escanaba. The bride is a graduate of Bishop Baraga Central High School, Marquette and Northern Michigan University where she received her bachelor degree.

Rock

Three Graduates

The Richard Campbell family of Roseville, former Rock residents, had three graduates in the family this spring. Son, Douglas, who attended Rock school through the eighth grade, graduated from high school; daughter Bonnie who was a Rock High School graduate, received her bachelor degree from Northern Michigan University, Marquette. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell are both Rock High School and Northern graduates. Campbell received his masters degree in Roseville this month. Douglas will attend Northern this fall.

Mrs. Clara Johnson of Saginaw is visiting friends and relatives in the Rock, Marquette and Escanaba area for an indefinite period. At the present she is visiting her father, George Lusardi in Trombly. Nancy Weidum returned home Wednesday after spending 17 days in the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Detroit. She had skin grafting on her index finger. She will return to Detroit on June 5.

There were 69 families and 236 people attending the former Rock resident picnic at the Lolo Valley Park in Detroit on June 4.

Receives Grant

Cadet Michael Ruotsala, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sulo Ruotsala of Rock, has been selected for an Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corp financial assistance grant at the University of Wisconsin at Madison. He will be a junior beginning this fall when the grant becomes effective.

Mike was the valedictorian of the 1965 graduating class at Rock. He is among 1400 third-year selectees from 153 nations leading colleges and universities.

Lions Meet

The Rock Lions will install the officers for the coming year tonight. The Lions and ladies are invited. The dinner will begin at 7 at the Rock Lions clubhouse.

Obituary

Arthur Pellinen, 50, of Watton, former Rock resident, was killed in an auto accident on June 10 in Baraga county. Survivors are his widow, the former Linda Kovalva of Watton and two daughters, two step-daughters and two sisters. Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Harju attended the funeral and also visited with her father, Wester Rajala in Rock. Pellinen was Mrs. Harju's uncle.

Henry Hill of Detroit has purchased and moved into the former John Niemela farm in West Rock. He is Mrs. Aaro Sutela's father.

Mrs. Mary Kanerva is visiting in Superior and Duluth.

Mrs. Herb Westlund has returned home following surgery in Marquette.

Rev. Peter Laaninen and Hugo Huysert attended the 5th annual convention of Wisconsin Air Command and Staff College at Maxwell, AFB, Ala.

Parents Can And Should Say 'No', Teenagers Told

Both teen-agers and parents were told during the 49th Annual 4-H Club Week at Michigan State University, East Lansing, that they must have the courage to challenge the "they" concept, and live their own lives.

More than 1,200 teen-agers, many of whom brought their parents for the final sessions, heard Dr. Owen Morgan say teens must learn to take over their own lives, and live them responsibly, "basically on their own steam."

This must be done in a responsive way, Dr. Morgan said. "Too many people sit around, waiting for someone else to give them their life, and fulfillment for that life."

What's Right

Dr. Morgan is director of the Skillman Center Program at the Merrill-Palmer Institute in Detroit. He and Morley Fraser, head football coach at Albion College, challenged teens and parents to make their own decisions based on what was right for them, and not influenced by others.

Challenging the concept of "they"—that vague, undefined force of "everyone else," is essential to becoming an individual and living one's own life in this mass society, Dr. Morgan said.

He also talked about the importance of teens keeping dating values in line with the rest of their values, especially values about people. Self acceptance is particularly important, he added, since it forms the basis for accepting others.

Fraser discussed the parent's role in making mature, responsible citizens out of their teen-agers. He commented that parents who always say "yes" because other parents do, don't really love their children.

Parents, Speak Up!

"Right now NO is the most important word in the English language," said Fraser, but many parents don't know how to use it. He urged parents of teen-agers to take a stand on such things as smoking, drinking, going steady, use of the car, and study habits.

A major fault of today's parents, he said, is that they spend too much time worrying about their own pocketbooks, social climbing, and their own professional success.

As a result, Fraser commented, somebody else is forced to reach today's teen-agers about God, sex, and the marks of men and women, and life itself.

"Being parents is a full-time job, and takes real courage," Fraser added. "They must be able to say yes as well as no, and set a real example for their teen-agers by living a good life themselves. These parents will never have a 'crisis in the family'."

Carol Anderson Bride Of Kenneth G. Schultz

American Martyrs Church of Kingsford was the setting on Saturday, June 17 for the wedding of Miss Carol Anderson, daughter of Mr. Bertel Anderson and the late Mr. Anderson of Kingsford, and Kenneth G. Schultz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Schultz of Hermansville.

The Rev. John Hughes officiated at the double ring ceremony at a 9 a. m. nuptial high mass.

The four-part choir of St. Mary's Church, Hermansville, sang the "Choral Mass in English", "Ave Maria", at offertory, and, "O God of Loveliness", at Communion. Miss Denise Derks of Kingsford was the organist.

After the marriage rite, the bride placed a bouquet of white carnations at the altar of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

Peau de Soie

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Roger Anderson of Alma, Mich. She wore a white floor length sleeveless gown of peau de soie with a bodice of venise lace, and long coat with elbow length sleeves of matching venise lace.

Her three-tiered fingertip veil of silk illusion was caught to a beaded rose headpiece, also of peau de soie. She carried a cascade bouquet of white French carnations centered with a white orchid and tied with satin bow and streamers.

Maid of honor was the bride's cousin, Miss Diane DeJulianne of Milwaukee, and junior bridesmaids were Kay and Kristine Anderson, nieces of the bride from Alma, Mich.

The maid of honor wore a floor length gown of chiffon-over-taffeta. The yellow skirt draped from an empire bodice of white trimmed with solid yellow daisies. She wore a small crowned headpiece of yellow tulle and carried a cascade bouquet of white clombillias surrounded by yellow daisies.

Mint Green

The junior bridesmaids wore identical floor length dresses of mint green chiffon-over-taffeta, fashioned with an empire waistline, ribbon sashed with bows in back. Their headbands were matching chiffon bows and they carried cascade bouquets of yellow daisies.

Serving as best man was Ronald Arnold of Norway, cousin of the groom. Seating the guests were Ronald Koller and Ronald Wilman of Iron Mountain. Grandmothers, Mrs. Joseph Arnold of Norway and Mrs. Carl Schultz of Hermansville and the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Roger Anderson, were presented with corsages of blue carnations and pink tea roses.

For attending her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Anderson selected a rose two-piece knit dress with floral headpiece and beige accessories. Mrs. Schultz wore a three-piece powder blue suit with white accessories. Both pinned corsages of French carnations and sweet heart roses.

Going Away

The bridal party and their families and relatives were served a noon brunch at the Dickinson Hotel.

Delta Nurses Meet Tuesday

The monthly meeting of the Delta District Nurses Association will be held June 27 at 7:30 p. m. at St. Francis Hospital.

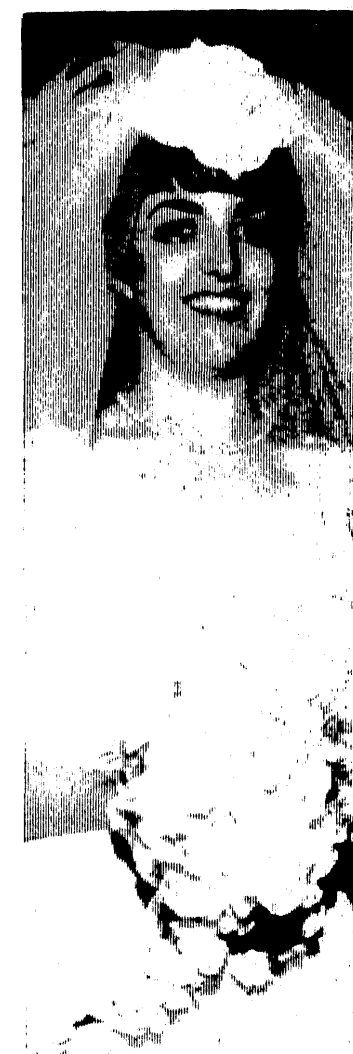

All registered nurses in the area are invited to attend and plans will be made for the annual picnic in July which is open to all nurses.

Laurel, who will be a junior at the Escanaba Area High School next fall, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis D. Weiland, 1813 N. 12th Ave.

Dear Folks:

Many of us make home movies without a sound track. Not only of the family, but especially when we go on trips.

Recently, dear old friends of mine sent me a roll of movie film. While we were running the film a thought struck me: These friends have a tape recorder as well as a movie camera so why not combine the two and have "talkies!"

If you're a home movie enthusiast and have a tape recorder, get out all your old movie reels and watch them by yourself.

As the film runs, tape record where it was taken, who that person is, the fun you had on the trip and what is coming up next!

It sure makes your movies more meaningful.

And as you replace the film in its box, put the tape away in a box, too, and store them together.

Now don't forget... the next time you take a movie film of your family, get that tape recorder out, plug it in and you can have live action and words at the same time.

How much more precious can anything be than the voices of those we love?

You don't really have anything to lose because the tape can be used over and over again if it doesn't turn out satisfactorily... and it sure is fun to hear those voices when the movie is being run.

Now isn't that tricky?

LETTER OF THOUGHT

Dear Heloise:

It does not pay to belittle anybody — the Lord never did!

Try a little understanding. Everybody can't be perfect.

Chaplain

Dear Heloise:

When buying material for colored or printed pillowcases (especially for children) buy a little extra material to sew along the top of a sheet to match the cases.

This makes an inexpensive matching sheet and pillowcase and they look so attractive.

"Thrifty"

Dear Heloise:

For those of you who don't own a clothes dryer and want to hang out your laundry after a rain or before the dew dries off the grass:

Slip each foot inside a plastic bread bag. Tie them on and you have instant boots.

When you get back on the porch just slip them off and discard. No wet shoes!

Jessie

Dear Heloise:

Just a little hint as to what can be done with yellowed window shades.

My shades are the roll-up-and-down kind with green on one side and white on the other.

As they were in perfect condition, except for the "yellow," I laid them on a table and just cleaned the white side with white liquid shoe polish.

They dried overnight.

When I hung them back on the window they were nice and white again.

Mrs. Paul Johnson

I suggest you thin any white shoe polish with water and apply with a sponge. Worked great on the brand I tried.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

When I made cream pie with a graham cracker crust, there was always some left over as we are a small family. The second day the crust was usually soggy.

Now, I always BAKE the crust if there is an option to either bake or chill it.

While it is still warm, I press marshmallows into the warm crust to cover the surface. This way I have no soggy crust the second day as the melted marshmallows seal it beautifully.

Besides, it adds an interesting layer and improves the flavor of the whole pie.

V. Neely

Thank you little angel.

While testing this, I put those little tiny marshmallows all over the bottom and then poured in my hot pudding.

It was a knockout.

Dear Folks:

Some evening when you get ready to have a backyard party and you don't have permanent yard lighting (which is expensive), one of the cutest tricks I learned while living overseas was to use flashlights!

Borrow them from your neighbors if you have to. But do you know what they do? They add just the exotic effect you want and at practically no cost.

My husband and I put flashlights under bushes and certain trees in such a way that they shine up and provide gorgeous indirect lighting.

Another cute place to put them is in an urn, pot, or vase that is filled with artificial flowers or shrubbery! You will be surprised at the lighting effect you get this way.

So why shouldn't we go all out to entertain our friends outdoors when we can create an interesting atmosphere?

Does it make the food taste better? I don't know, but people have told me it does, and we've been cooking the same old recipes for years and years.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Recently we purchased a lovely new sofa and chair set. I felt that the back and arms should be protected some way.

That famous nylon net came to my rescue.

I bought it in colors that matched the sofa. Then doubled it and put it over the back and arms of the furniture where they get the most soil.

Worked well as a protector and was hardly visible. But best of all, those pieces can be removed and washed easily. Devoted Fan

Four of the top softball teams in the Upper Peninsula have made advance entry into the annual Escanaba Invitational softball tournament which will be staged at Memorial Field June 30, July 1-2. Entered to date are Woody's Bar of Ishpeming, Koski Korner of Champion, U. P. Power of Houghton and Stambaugh West Side Merchants. . . . Tourney director Clarence Konas expects two or three of the Escanaba American League teams to round out the field.

The Pittsburgh Pirates will conduct a baseball tryout camp at Joannes Stadium in Green Bay Friday, June 30. . . . In charge will be scouts Bill Jackson and Jim Ford of Green Bay. . . . Players 16 and over are eligible to attend, except that American Legion players must have a letter of permit from their coaches or managers. . . . The workout will begin at 5 p. m. and run to 9.

Coach Jim Brownson of Engadine has come up with a formidable one-two pitching punch in the Eastern Upper Peninsula prep baseball league. . . . Mike Schutt and Roger Nesbit have twirled four straight victories in which they have granted only 10 hits while striking out 55 batters. . . . They both swing big sticks at the plate as well. . . . Schutt has clubbed eight hits and Nesbit seven to date.

Reno Pettenuzzo, the Canadian pitching ace who had a brief fling at professional softball, is sidelined with a broken finger on his throwing hand. . . . In his only appearance on the Canadian Soo Realtor mound this season he struck out 22 batters in a 3-1 nine inning victory over Elliot Lake in an Inter-city Traveling league game. . . . Kinkeade and the Soo Merchants are also members of the league.

Iron Mountain's Little League pitching phenom did it again. . . . Earl Huotari, 11 year old chucker for the Elks, tossed his third no-hitter in four starts this season by beating UCT, 2-0, Wednesday. . . . He also had a no-hitter to his credit last season.

Ryun Sets Own Pace To Snap World Mark With 3:51.1 Clocking

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP)—Amaring Jim Ryun, without collaborator, wrote another lustrous chapter in his continuing series of world mile records with a 3:51.1 in the National AAU Track and Field Championships.

Ryun, the lean but powerful Kansan, had to set his own pace Friday night and did so in exemplary fashion. But it was the 20-year-old running star's blistering 53.5 on the final lap that enabled Ryun to break the 3:51.3 he ran last July in Berkeley, Calif.

Pole vaulter Paul Wilson clocked the two-day competition at Memorial Stadium with another world record—17 feet, 8 inches. The Southern California sophomore wiped out the mark of 17-7 established by teammate Bob Seagren just two weeks ago.

But the modest, smiling Ryun captured the sentiments of the 11,600 fans who thrilled to his solo virtuosity. "I wanted the pack to go a little faster in the first lap," said Ryun. "When it lagged a little I decided to go out on the pace by myself. I knew it would be harder, but it was the only way."

"When I heard the timers say 1:39 at the first half, I didn't think I would get the record," Ryun added but he turned in a 58.6 third quarter, then sprinted away from the field, bringing the screaming crowd to its feet with his classic finish.

Yankees Clout McLain For Three Homers In 3-1 Win Over Detroit

NEW YORK (AP)—Tiger hurler Denny McLain's pitching proved powerful medicine Friday night for the ailing New York Yankees, who tagged McLain for three home runs. The Tigers lost, 3-1.

One of the long shots came off the bat of Yankee pitcher Al Downing. It was the second home run of Downing's career, and the second he blasted off a pitch served up by McLain.

"It was in Detroit in 1963," Downing said, recalling his earlier home run off McLain. "I hit a fast ball this time too. I guess he forgot."

Joining the Bronx Bomber home run parade were Steve Whitaker and Tom Tresh.

McLain is noted for serving up home run pitches. Last year he was nicked for 42, a Tiger all-time high. He has given up 22 this year, compiling an 8-8 record.

Downing, who has hopes of making the 1967 American League All Star team with his 8-4 record, appears to have solved a past history of giving up home runs.

He gave up 23 last season; so far this season he has only two round trippers marked against him.

Detroit's only run came in three sixth, when the Tigers combined two scratch hits and a single by Al Kaline through the left side of the infield.

Kaline's hit was the last Downing allowed. He gave up a total of six.

McLain gave up his homers in three innings in a row, the first when Whitaker lifted a fast ball into the right field bullpen in the second inning.

Then Downing poked a drive over the 402-foot mark in left field.

The fireworks were over by the beginning of the fourth inning, when Tresh cracked a sharp shot to right.

Downing helped himself with some good fielding. He backed up a wild throw from Joe Pepitone past third base and cut down Jim Northrup at the plate with a fine throw in the second. He turned McLain's bunt into a double play in the third and jumped off the mound to spear Dick McAuliffe's hopper in the eighth.

The Tigers argued that Pepitone's throw past third in the second had been touched by a young fan, but the umpires ruled the ball was in play. The result was Downing's throw to Jake Gibbs to get Northrup. McLain started the day off on the wrong foot when he missed the club plane and had to pay his own way to New York.

"It was not my day," said McLain. "I guess I should have stayed home. Oh well, you win some, lose some and some you get rained out."

The Tigers meet the Yankees again tonight, with Johnny Podres starting for Detroit and Fritz Peterson going to the mound for New York.

Drop Charges Against Allen

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Felony narcotics charges against UCLA basketball star Lucius Allen have been dropped in Los Angeles Municipal Court.

Judge Vaino Spencer ruled Friday that Allen had not been properly advised of his constitutional rights by policemen who questioned him May 23 after saying they found four marijuana cigarettes in his car.

The judge also ruled that there was no evidence that the basketball player had any knowledge of how the marijuana got in the car.

UCLA had waived disciplinary action pending the court outcome.

BATTING — Joe Foy, Red Sox, lashed two triples and two singles, scored three runs and drove in a fourth in Boston's 8-4 victory over Cleveland.

Cards In First, Maris Is Happy

By The Associated Press
Roger Maris figures you don't need much pull to go places. . . . from 10th to first, for example. . . . in a hurry. All it takes is a little extra push.

Maris socked an eighth inning homer that lifted St. Louis' streaking Cardinals past Philadelphia 3-2 Friday night and stretched their National League lead to three games.

The Cardinals struggled to their sixth straight victory on the strength of Maris' tie-breaking shot and the four-hit pitching of rookie Dick Hughes after arriving in St. Louis at 5 a. m. on a flight from the West Coast, where they'd completed a 10-game road trip.

Season Begins In Rec Leagues

Regular league play will begin on Monday in the City Recreation League. Beginners teams will play in the mornings and the Junior Leaguers in the afternoons.

Openings for players still exist in both leagues and new players are welcome. To play in the Beginner League a boy must be between 7 and 9 years of age. The Junior League includes 10 to 14 year olds. Registration blanks may be obtained from the leaders at the fields or Club 314.

Schedule for June 26 to 30: (All games at Royce Park).

Monday — St. Anne vs. St. Joe at 9:00; Lemmer No. 1 vs. Jefferson at 10:30; Orioles vs. Tigers at 1:00; Cubs vs. Twins at 2:30.

Tuesday — Lemmer No. 2 vs. St. Pat at 9:00; Practice for 7 year olds at 10:30; All-Stars vs. Orioles at 1:00; Twins vs. Tigers at 2:30.

Wednesday — St. Anne vs. Jefferson at 9:00; St. Joe vs. St. Pat at 10:30; Cubs vs. All-Stars at 1:00; Cubs vs. Orioles at 2:30.

Thursday — Lemmer No. 1 vs. Lemmer No. 2 at 9:00; Practice 8-year olds at 10:30; Tigers vs. All-Stars at 1:00; Twins vs. Orioles at 2:30.

Friday — Jefferson vs. Lemmer No. 2 at 9:00; St. Joe vs. Lemmer No. 1 at 10:30; Cubs vs. Tigers at 1:00.

Tuesday — Wednesday, Thursday — All Star practice, 6.
Friday — Players report at Club 314 at 9:30 a. m. for Tag Day collection.

The Babe Ruth League reached the halfway mark in the season this week with surprising Mead Paper, last place finisher in 1966, hanging onto the top spot.

Mead's lone loss was a 12-1 setback suffered at the hands of Insurance in extra innings this week.

Harnischfeger Local took over the No. 2 spot with wins over the Bankers and Insurance. The Insurance, Teamsters and Kiwanis teams are knotted for third place, all with 2-2 records.

The All Star break follows Monday's makeup game between Mead and Insurance. All Stars will practice next week for the Upper Peninsula tourney which will be held here July 6-9.

The annual Tag Day will be held Friday and Saturday, June 30 and July 1. Players will accept donations to help finance the league, purchase equipment and to finance the U. P. Tourney.

In the lone game played Friday night Harnischfeger edged Insurance, 8-6, with Tom Rader going the route. He allowed 11 hits and eight walks while fanning five. His mates committed only one error in the field. Jim Bibbs led the winners at the plate.

Losing pitcher Bob McGinn granted only four hits, fanned 14 and walked 10. Bill Sheeldo had two doubles and a single and McGinn rapped two hits in three trips.

KATHLEEN ANN FAKETTY, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Faketty, 520 Garden Ave., and Harold E. Archey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Archey, 412 Delta Ave., were united in marriage, June 17. (Minceff Photo)

Penny Tanguay, Terry Miller Wed

Penny Lee Tanguay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Tanguay, Cooks, and Terry Jon Miller, son of Mrs. Clarence LaMuth, Manistique, and Mr. Lloyd Miller, Dearborn Heights, were united in marriage in a 11:00 a.m. ceremony today in St. Francis de Sales Church. The Rev. Robert Kennedy officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Debbie Tanguay was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Susan Lemirand, Cathy LaMuth, and Donna Tanguay. John P. Miller served as best man and groomsmen were Don Gierke, Doug Demers, and Mike Selling. Robert Tanguay and Charles Bennett ushered. Linda Savage was flower girl and John Heric Bennett, ring bearer.

The bride wore a richly-patterned tulle gown with puffed skirt and scalloped neckline. It featured a sweeping train with french sequins and tiny seed pearls, lined with nylon tulle. Her veil of white silk illusion fell from a regal crown of lace crystals and simulated pearl orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of yellow sweetheart roses and ivy foliage.

The bridesmaids wore two-tone dresses of nylon sheer over acetate taffeta accented by cotton floral lace bodices with pastel acetate taffeta lining tops. At the waistline, the lustrous acetate satin featured set-in cummerbunds and bowed-and-pleated long back panels.

The bride's mother chose a three-piece mint green and white accessories. Mrs. LaMuth wore a two-piece pink silk dress with bone accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of white carnations tinted to match their dresses.

A reception for over 500 guests will be held at the K.C. Hall at 6:00 p.m.

Briefly Told

Attend the Church of Your Choice

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Days	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	.....Psalms	37	27-40
Monday	.....Genesis	1	24-31
Tuesday	.....Matthew	5	43-48
Wednesday	.....I Timothy	6	1-10
Thursday	.....I Timothy	6	11-21
Friday	.....Hebrews	8	1-5
Saturday	.....Hebrews	12	1-6

The rose comes very close to man's standard of perfection. Its delicate beauty seems to mock every effort of the artist or camera to capture it. But is the rose really God's masterpiece? Hardly! For its beauty is passive. It brightens life only for those who seek it out and gaze upon it. And in but a few days it withers and is ugly. God's masterpiece is MAN. For with all his waywardness and selfishness, Man is capable of reflecting the love of God. When he lets God touch his life he is able to bring happiness and faith to others. He doesn't have to wait until he is noticed. He can actively bring spiritual blessings to his fellow men. As the gardener cultivates the rose, the Church cultivates the lives of men. Always it strives to help us become all that God wants us to be.
